Resource List for White Participants

Crystal A. Johnson, Ph.D. and Kitsy Schoen, MSW

This resource list is for those who wish to do further research on their own, or as a basis for study groups and discussions. Suggestions for additional resources, especially non-U.S. resources, are welcome at CrystalJ@SoundsTrue.com.

Books

- The Inner Work of Racial Justice: Healing Ourselves and Transforming Our Communities Through Mindfulness, Rhonda Magee
- Stamped from the Beginning, by Ibram X. Kendi
- How to Be An Anti-Racist, by Ibram X. Kendi
- Caste, by Isabel Wilkerson
- Why I'm No Longer Talking to White People About Race, by Reni Eddo-Lodge
- Natives: Race and Class in the Ruins of Empire, by Akala
- Me and My White Supremacy, by Layla Saad
- BRITish and Black, Afua Hirsch
- The Hate Race, by Maxine Beneba Clarke
- So You Want To Talk About Race, by Ijeoma Oluo
- Growing Up Aboriginal in Australia, edited by Anita Heiss
- Things I Would Tell You, edited by Sabrina Mahfouz
- Destined to Witness: Growing Up Black in Nazi Germany, by Hans Massaquoi
- Born A Crime, by Trevor Noah
- Entre el Atlántico y el Pacífico Negro: afrodescendencia y regímenes de desigualdad en Sudamérica/Between the Black Atlantic and Black Pacific: Afrodescendants and the regime of inequality in South America, by Manuel Góngora Mera, Rocío Vera Santos and Sérgio Costa
- Pigmentocracies: Ethnicity, Race, and Color in Latin America, by Edward Telles

A Deep Dive into History

- The History of White People, by Nell Irvin Painter
- An Indigenous Peoples' History of the United States, by Roxanne Dunbar-Ortiz
- An African-American and Latinx History of the United States, by Paul Ortiz
- Indigenous Canada (online course)
- Welcome to Country, by Marcia Langton
- Australia Day, Stan Grant
- The Discourse of Race in Modern China, by Frank Dikotter

Videos

- Race: The Power of an Illusion (3 hours)
- Mirrors of Privilege: Making Whiteness Visible (50 minutes)
- Cracking the Codes: The System of Racial Inequity (75 minutes)
- TedxPerth
- In My Blood It Runs

Podcasts

Seeing White, an excellent 14-episode podcast from Scene on Radio

Colour Code, produced by the Globe and Mail on race in Canada

Race Matters-Episode 59: I Can't Breathe, this podcast delves into the worrying similarities between the death of George Floyd and the deaths of Indigenous men in Australia.

Resource Lists

Resources for White People offered by the East Bay Meditation Center

Resource Guide by Robin DiAngelo

Resources, offered by WhiteAwake.org

Thinking Blackness, Identity and Racism, resources translated from French to English

Especially for White Men (and anyone interested in the intersection of patriarchy and race) suggestions made by Gregory Mengel

- The best book I know of on this topic is I Don't Want to Talk About It by Terry Real. Though on one level it's about male depression, it is very much about Patriarchy and uses the term throughout.
- Another really good one is Paul Kivel's Men's Work: How to Stop the Violence that Tears Our Lives Apart. It is a great analysis and includes introspection and practices one could use with a group. It was based on his work with the Oakland Men's Project.
- And then there is The Man They Wanted Me to Be by Jared Yates Sexton. It is a memoir of growing up in a white working class family and all the toxic pressures he experienced to conform to a very narrow version of "mrkin" manhood. It's a great read, but maybe not as relatable as Real or Johnson (see below).
- Allan Johnson's Not From Here is actually not about Patriarchy, per se. It is a short-ish memoir reflecting on place and belonging and the challenge he experienced, as a white American, feeling like he was really from any particular place. It is really beautiful.
- Last but not least, all of Michael Kimmel's books are about Patriarchy in that he is a sociologist in Masculinity Studies. Angry White Men from 2013 is good and sort of prescient. The men he talks about are the same men who populate Sexton's books - white men who feel their country is being taken from them. Guyland is perhaps a better fit. It's about the culture of masculinity that young (mostly white) men must navigate in becoming adults - rape culture and such. He's a sociologist, and while he is a brilliant academic, he doesn't really show up personally in his work.
- In addition to The Good Men Project, is Mark Green's Remaking Manhood website