

Knowing, Mindfulness & Recovery

By Andy McGuire

Knowing, Mindfulness & Recovery

Cutting Through Reactivity

1 Introduction

The Issue

We live in a society that values being busy and consuming. In order to be “successful” means having a career, money, materials possessions and people of look up to us. When we describe to others how we are doing usually this means reciting all of the things that we are doing. If we appear to be busy then we assume that we are “living life”.

How we get here

There are a few ways that folks, these days, get into Recovery in one form or the other. Living our lives through seeking pleasure and avoiding discomfort is common in our modern society. Instead of having the wherewithal to look for a way out we easily slip deeper into trouble. Usually we come into recovery as a result of consequences to our addictive behavior. We go into debt, or avoid taking steps for improving our lives thru education or employment, living off of the coattails of friends and family. We can become dependant on others for financial or emotional support - creating conflicts with friends, family and relatives. We can act in ways that create resentment and

Ways we get into trouble.

Some possible affects

Avoiding seeking help

Today there are so many options for beginning the path of Recovery. If we come into Recovery thru the Court System that will most likely require us to be forced into attending 12-Step Programs directly or, if imprisoned, then being offered 12-Step Meetings while incarcerated. We may be lucky enough to be offered the opportunity to get into Recovery by attending one of the various types of Recovery Treatment Centers. There is so many options here also. This Inpatient & Outpatient, Gender Specific Treatment, Luxury Treatment, & Sober Living Homes. We might not even come into Recovery through the courts. If our marriages or relationships are suffering, we might get into some form of Counseling. There is also Individual Counseling & Therapy.

which usually involves some combination of having someone attempt to point out how we are approaching living our life, How we get there

The traditional means of Recovery for those in 12-Step Programs is One of the foundations

1.1 Coming Into Spiritual Practice

2 The Need for Presence & Clear Knowing

2.1 Presence

2.2 Clear Knowing

3 Defining What We are Mindful of

3.1 Overview of Satipatthana

3.2 Mindful of the Body & Breathing

3.3 Mindful of Feelings

3.4 Mindful of Mind

4 The All of Knowing

4.1 Dhammas

4.2 Traditional Teachings

4.2.1 The Hindrances

4.2.2 The Aggregates

4.2.3 The Sense Spheres

4.3 Other Dhammas

4.3.1 Mindfulness of Behaviors

4.3.1.1 Banging Our Head with Our Habits and Defects

5 The Truth of Stress & Suffering

5.1 Dealing with Life on Life's Terms 101

5.2 Suffering is optional

6 Craving/Clinging is the Pits

6.1 How Craving and Cling Affects us Addicts and Alcoholics

7 The Knife

7.1 Coming to Spirituality

7.2 Sila

7.3 Samadhi

7.4 Panna

8 Identity View

8.1 The One Who Knows

9 Awakening Practices

9.1 Already Awake

9.2 Meditation

9.3 Types of Meditation

9.3.1 Traditional

9.3.2 New Age

9.3.3 Practical Subjects

